3. PROGRAM & CONTENT

3.1 Digital Access & Account Security

Parents are responsible for maintaining the confidentiality of their login details and for all activities under their account. Sharing login access beyond the immediate household is not permitted. Wonder & Wild Homeschooling may suspend or terminate access if misuse, sharing, or unauthorised distribution of materials is detected.

3.2 Copyright confidentiality

- 3.2.1 Intellectual Property: All intellectual property, including trademarks, logos, digital resources, and artwork, remain the property of Wonder & Wild Homeschooling and are protected under Australian copyright and trademark law.
- 3.2.2 Confidentiality: The parent, carer and participant agree to keep the content of the Wonder & Wild Homeschooling program and any associated material confidential and not to copy, share or use any aspect of the W&W program directly or indirectly for any purpose other than their own children participating in the homeschooling program.
- 3.2.3 Competition Restriction: The parent, carer and participant agree not to directly or indirectly manage, operate or assist in the organisation of any business which competes with W&W while the participant is completing the W&W program and for a period of one year afterwards.

3.3 Program Delivery & Availability

Wonder & Wild Homeschooling aims to provide continuous access to its online programs but does not guarantee uninterrupted availability. Temporary interruptions may occur due to maintenance, upgrades, or issues beyond our control.

3.4 Program Updates & Changes

Wonder & Wild Homeschooling is committed to maintaining high-quality, current, and relevant content. We may update, modify, or improve elements of our programs, resources, or digital platforms from time to time to reflect curriculum changes, new educational standards, or enhanced user experience.

Where significant updates occur, W&W will make reasonable efforts to notify enrolled parents via email or website announcement. Updates may include replacing outdated materials, adding new lessons, or refining activities. These updates form part of the purchased program and do not entitle the parent to a refund or additional charge unless explicitly stated.

3.5 Termination of Access

Wonder & Wild Homeschooling reserves the right to suspend or terminate a parent's or participant's access to the program at any time if:

- 3.5.1 A material breach of these Terms & Conditions occurs.
- 3.5.2 The Code of Conduct, Privacy Policy, or any related policy is violated.
- 3.5.3 Login credentials or digital resources are shared, copied, or distributed beyond the registered household.
- 3.5.4 Conduct is deemed by W&W to be inappropriate, disruptive, fraudulent, or damaging to the W&W community or reputation.

3.6 Notification of termination

Where appropriate, W&W will first issue a written warning and provide an opportunity to rectify the breach. If the behaviour continues or is serious in nature, W&W may immediately remove access without further notice. Termination under this clause does not entitle the parent to a refund of any fees already paid, except as required under Australian Consumer Law. Termination of access will not affect any accrued rights or obligations of either party existing at the date of termination.

4. MEDICAL

4.1 Allergies or medical conditions

Wonder & Wild Homeschooling has taken all reasonable care to design its programs and activities to be inclusive and suitable for a wide range of learners, including those with medical conditions, allergies, or additional needs. However, each child's circumstances are unique, and it remains the sole responsibility of the parent or guardian to assess the suitability of any activity or resource for their child.

Parents and guardians should use their own discretion and judgment when selecting, modifying, or omitting any activity based on their child's specific medical, physical, dietary, or developmental needs. Wonder & Wild Homeschooling will not be held liable for any injury, allergic reaction, or adverse outcome resulting from participation in suggested activities or the use of recommended materials.

4.2 Wellness & Learning Support

At Wonder & Wild Homeschooling, we value both learning and wellbeing. Children learn best when they are healthy, happy, and emotionally supported. Parents and guardians are encouraged to prioritise their child's physical and mental health over completing any specific lesson or schedule. If a child is unwell, tired, or struggling emotionally, it is the parent's responsibility to pause or adapt learning until they're ready to re-engage. There's no pressure to continue when it may affect their wellbeing.

The W&W team is always available to offer support or ideas for adapting the program. If you need help navigating wellness or learning challenges, reach out at hello@wonderandwild.com.au

5. PHOTOGRAPHY

5.1 Parents photography

Parents are encouraged to take and share photos of their children participating in the Wonder & Wild homeschooling program. However the course material is copyright protected and therefore no part of the programs including but not limited to introductions, outlines or worksheets are to be shared publicly via social media or any other outlet. Please ensure all photos refrain from containing any of this material.

The exception to this is any certificates or awards that we may issue for you to customise for your participants. Please be aware of the safety of your child when posting images online.

5.2 Photography consent

From time to time, W&W will record or photograph the parents and participants of the program. By participating in our programs or submitting photos or videos of your children you consent to your image and likeness being used by W&W for any commercial or promotional purpose that is related to the interests of W&W or for internal training purposes. If this term is unable to be fulfilled by the parent or carer, please email W&W at hello@wonderandwild.com.au.

5.3 Photography reproduction

W&W will never sell or license images to third parties unrelated to its operations.

6. FINANCIAL

6.1 Enrolment fee - Full year

Upon initial registration, the parent will be required to pay a registration enrolment fee as advertised on the W&W website. This fee covers access to the W&W program for 60 weeks, upon completion of this time period, that access will be removed. The parent can then choose to enrol in the next year level (or at any time prior).

6.2 Enrolment fee - Split term payments

6.2.1 Initial payment: Upon initial registration, the parent will be required to pay the term 1 enrolment fee as advertised on the W&W website.

6.2.2 Subsequent payments: Every 10 weeks, the parent will be automatically charged for the next term, until all 4 terms have been paid for.

6.2.3 Term access: When choosing a split term payment, access periods that apply are as follows: term 1 - 60 weeks, term 2 - 50 weeks, term 3 - 40 weeks and term 4 - 30 weeks.

6.2.4 Subscription cancellation: If the parent does not wish to continue with their split term payments, they must cancel it before the end of the 10 weeks. If they do cancel, they will retain access to any paid for terms until the end of the access period for which they paid for.

6.3 Payment Types

We accept Visa and Mastercard debit or credit cards. Payments will be taken from the payment type from which you made your last payment. If you want to change the payment type or update your card details, please click the update link in your original term payment confirmation email or contact us on hello@wonderandwild.com.au.

6.4 Fee Changes

Fee changes will only occur when necessary and only for future purchases. Once you have paid a fee for your current product, that locks in the price for you for the remainder of that access period.

6.5 Cancellations and refunds

6.5.1 Refunds: All W&W enrolment fees are non-refundable except as required under Australian Consumer Law or with prior written approval from W&W. Refunds may be approved on a case-by-case basis especially where a major failure has occurred under the ACL.

6.5.2 Cancellation by parent: If you wish to no longer participate in the W&W program, you must notify W&W via email. As stated in clause 6.5.1, no refunds will be given unless in exceptional circumstances and only with approval from W&W.

6.5.3 Cancellation by W&W: W&W reserves the right to cancel your registration at any time on grounds of incorrect, fraudulent or misleading information provided as part of the registration process; or due to the participant breaking the code of conduct or terms and conditions. In the event of your registration being cancelled for any of the above reasons, no refunds will be given.

6.5.4 Cancellation by an outside force: If W&W are unable to facilitate the program due to forces outside of its control such as "Act of God" (e.g. disruption resulting from extreme weather conditions, earthquakes, etc), strikes, terrorist activity, or where local authorities/public guidance advise that program should be temporarily suspended for health or other reasons, then no refunds will be given, however credits may be given at the discretion of W&W.

6.6 Failed Payments:

If a payment is unsuccessful, W&W may temporarily suspend access to the program until the payment issue is resolved.
